WYOMING

Population 247,000 (U. S. Census Bureau Estimate, 1928)
State Capital, CHEYENNE

Wyoming is bounded north by Montana, east by South Dakota and Nebraska, south by Colorado and Utah and west by Utah, Idaho and Montana; length, east to west, 365 miles; width, 274 miles; land area, 97,548 square miles. The mean elevation of the state is about 6,700 feet. The clear, dry atmosphere and the abundance of sunshine has made the state a favorite health resort, especially for persons afflicted with pulmonary diseases. Its surface is broken by mountain ranges, deep river canyons and flat-topped hills or buttes, the latter a feature of south Wyoming, which rise from valley or plain like walled cities or mounds. In the northwest corner is the Yellowstone National Park. There are extensive areas of pine and spruce timber, widely distributed throughout the mountain regions. The forests cover about 7,000,000 acres and as much more of the surface is more or less timbered.

Population, 1920 census. White people, 190,146; of this number 25,255 are foreign-born, 5,199 from the British Isles, Scandinavians 3,629, Germans 2,292. Remainder from other European and Asiatic countries. Negroes 1,375, Indians 1,343. Urban residents 57,348, rural 137,054. Percentage of illiterates: in the state 2.1; of the foreign-born white 9.0; of the negroes 5.3.

Agriculture. Wyoming ranked fortieth in 1927 in the total value of agricultural products, value $83,000,000; value of crops, $36,000,000; value of live stock products, $47,000,000. In 1920 the farms numbered 15,748, an increase of 43.3 per cent in ten years. They averaged 749.9 acres in size, 133.5 acres improved. 12.5 per cent (1,968 farms) were operated by tenants. There were 15,579 white farmers, 2,273 being of foreign birth, 134 Indians and 35 negroes, Japanese and Chinese. Irrigation is needed in a large part of the country to make the soil productive, as there are few places, except in the eastern portion, where crops can be successfully grown without additional water supply. Where irrigation is possible fine crops of alfalfa, sugar beets, vegetables and small fruits are grown. It is estimated that 10,000,000 acres may be reclaimed by irrigation and there are numerous government and private systems in operation or under construction. Over 1,200,000 acres are now supplied with water. Experiments are being made in methods of "dry farming" suitable for localities where irrigation is not practicable and good crops of grain and alfalfa have been grown. Certain varieties of wheat and barley do especially well. It is believed that 20,000,000 acres can be made productive by dry farming.

Chief Crops—1928	Production	State's Rank	Value	Acreage	Average Acre Yield
Barley	2,310,000 bu.		$1,409,000	77,000	30.0 bu.
Beans	352,000 bu.	8	1,197,000	22,000	16.0 bu.
Corn	3,006,000 bu.		2,254,000	167,000	18.0 bu.
Hay (Tame)	1,224,000 tons		12,362,000	681,000	1.80 tons
Oats	4,092,000 bu.		1,841,000	132,000	31.0 bu.
Potatoes	2,352,000 bu.		1,529,000	21,000	112 bu.
Rye	440,000 bu.		317,000	40,000	11.0 bu.
Wheat	4,098,000 bu.		3,388,000	243,000	16.9 bu.
Chief Fruits:
Apples	48,000 bu.		65,000
Miscellaneous Crops (Leading States only)
Beet-sugar	55 tons	7		33,000
Total estimated value of 22 leading crops..		42	$28,488,000

From U. S. Agr. Dept. Report, Dec., 1928.

On January 1, 1929, there were on the farms: 3,448,000 sheep, value $39,875,000. The wool clip in 1928 weighed 26,488,000 pounds. Wyoming ranks fourth in sheep and third in the production of wool.

Industries. In 1925, there were 224 manufacturing establishments doing an annual business of $5,000 or over, a decrease of 24 since 1923, employing 6,333 wage earners. Annual value of products, $107,984,752. Some leading industries according to value of products are: petroleum refining; lumber and timber products; butter, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk; flour and grain mill products; slaughtering and meat packing; foundry and machine shop products and a few others.

Minerals. The 1927 mineral production had a value of $56,167,000. State ranked twenty-second in value of minerals. Principal products were petroleum, coal, natural gas.

ALBERTA

Population 588,454 (Census of Canada, 1921)

Provincial Capital, EDMONTON

The Province of Alberta is bounded on the north by the parallel of 60° north, on the west by British Columbia, on the south by the 49th parallel (the boundary of the United States) and on the east by the Province of Saskatchewan. Its length from north to south is about 800 miles, its greatest breadth from east to west about 400 miles and its land area is 161,872,000 acres. 100,000,000 acres of this, about 60 per cent of the whole, is capable of cultivation. The northern half is unsettled except for the scattered trading stations of the Hudson Bay Company.

Population. The population of the province increased from 73,022 in 1901 to 374,663 in 1911.

Agriculture. In the southern districts of the province new lands are rapidly being brought under cultivation. According to the 1926 census 8,550,044 acres of land were devoted to crops, an increase of nearly 500,000 acres in the past five years. Many of the ranges, which were originally covered with wild grasses of many varieties and devoted to grazing, are now cultivated and yield a variety of field crops of importance. The number of farms in 1921 was 86,000, an increase of 18,397 over 1920. The lenient system of taxation in force attracts an energetic and desirable class of farmers to these new lands. The irrigation system, one of the largest in the world, makes possible the cultivation of a vast amount of tillable soil that would otherwise be of little value. Dairying is an important and growing industry.

Principal Field Crops—1928	Production	Value	Acreage	Average Acre Yield
Alfalfa	98,000 tons	$1,250,000	40,925	2.39 tons
Barley	15,849,000 bu.	7,449,000	545,524	29.1 bu.

Grain Hay	3,889,000 tons	38,890,000	1,555,585	2.50 tons
Hay and Clover	493,000 tons	5,083,000	300,447	1.64 tons
Mixed Grains	409,000 bu.	188,000	14,094	29.0 bu.
Oats	88,257,000 bu.	33,538,000	2,340,263	37.7 bu.
Peas	21,000 bu.	39,000	1,299	16.5 bu.
Potatoes	2,220,000 cwt.	2,287,000	28,366	78.3 cwt.
Rye	2,680,000 bu.	2,075,000	162,620	16.5 bu.
Sugar-beets	53,000 tons	385,000	6,000	8.83 tons
Turnips, Mangolds	623,000 cwt.	473,000	5,197	119.9 cwt.
Wheat	155,662,000 bu.	117,008,000	6,707,526	23.2 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $209,283,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were 740,408 horses, value $37,672,000; milk cows 344,495, value $23,427,000; other cattle, 955,000, value $45,376,000; sheep 515,000, value $5,348,000; hogs 680,000, value $9,039,000; poultry, 6,213,706, value $5,953,000. Alberta ranked fourth in total value of all live stock.

Fisheries, Forests and Furs. The fishery products for 1928 were valued at $725,050. Timber is plentiful in the western part of the province and is chiefly spruce, poplar, tamarack and pine of medium size. The total production for 1924 was 38,362,000 feet, principally spruce, valued at $859,560. The lumber industries are increasing in size and importance. In 1924 Alberta had 70 fur farms, an increase of 23 over 1923. The value of the fur-bearing animals was $579,877 as compared with $248,125 in 1923.

Industries. In 1926 there were 749 manufacturing establishments employing 10,233 people. The value of the manufactured products was $83,425,631. Alberta ranked fifth in the value of manufactured products.

Minerals. Alberta was fourth among the provinces in the value of minerals produced during 1927, with a production valued at $29,375,040, coal alone was worth $21,959,138. More than one-third of Canada's coal comes from Alberta mines, which are exceeded only by those of Nova Scotia. In the Rocky mountain section, in the extreme western part of the province are found large deposits of coal, petroleum, natural gas, gold, iron and zinc.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Population 524,582 (Census of Canada, 1921)

British Columbia is bounded on the north by the parallel of 60° north, on the west by the Pacific Ocean and Alaska, on the south by the 49th parallel (the boundary of the United States), on the east by Alberta. The area is 355,855 square miles. This includes a number of islands, the largest being Vancouver, which contains the capital of the province, and has an area of about 14,000 square miles. The province is about 700 miles long and 500 miles wide. The rainfall, except in some limited districts in the southeast, is abundant. There is unlimited water power everywhere. The surface is mountainous and densely wooded with trees of enormous size.

Agriculture. Agriculture is rapidly becoming one of the leading industries. In 1921 there were 21,973 farms having an acreage cf 2,860,593. In 1923 British Columbia produced 28 per cent. of Canada's apple crop; 42 per cent. of the pears; 76 per cent. of the plum and prunes and 50 per cent. of the cherries. The berries produced were more than half of the total production of the Dominion. The value of the fruit crop of this province in 1925 was about $7,000,000, the apple crop alone being worth $6,000,000. Dairying is one of the leading sources of income. In 1925 there were over 55 factories producing dairy products, The total agricultural production for 1926 was about $69,000,000 an increase of $4,000,000 over 1925.

Turnips, Mangolds	1,319,000 cwt.	1,293,000	6,940	190.0 cwt.
Wheat	1,481,000 bu.	1,755,000	59,194	25.0 bu.

Total value of all principal field crops for 1928 was $18,465,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: 51,878 horses, value $3,943,000; milk cows 101,156, value $8,497,000; other cattle 283,876, value $14,478,000; sheep 169,057, value $2,029,000; hogs 53,652, value $1,019,000; poultry 3,747,312, value $4,361,000. British Columbia ranks sixth in the total value of all live stock.

Fisheries and Furs. The fisheries are the most valuable in the Dominion, salmon forming by far the greatest portion of the catch, followed by halibut, herring and cod. The total production of the fisheries during 1928 was worth $26,562,691. 9,944 people are engaged in the fisheries in addition to 7,573 employed in the canneries and curing plants. Several shore whaling stations were in operation during 1926 and captured 351 whales worth $309,608. The whales captured produced 556,939 gallons of oil, value $266,651; 835 tons of fertilizer, value $35,697 and whalebone valued at $7,260. The fur seal industry has decreased since the Behring Sea fishing has been restricted, but some fur seals are still taken off the coast of British Columbia. Although the sea otter is now almost extinct, a few pelts are taken in each year. The value of raw furs taken in 1925 was $1,403,769. Climatic and general conditions are unsurpassed for fur farming. In 1924 there were 54 fox farms and 17 miscellaneous fur-bearing animal farms.

Forests. This province surpasses all others in quantity and value of its lumber production. The forest area is about 180 million acres and the province possesses about 300 billion feet of merchantable timber, including some of the heaviest stands in the world. There are millions of acres of pulp wood and the manufacture of paper and pulp is becoming an important industry. The principal species are fir, spruce, hemlock and cedar. The total lumber production for 1924 was 1,594,253,000 feet, value $37,293,956, an increase of one per cent. In 1924 there were 299 lumber mills in operation with an invested capital of $60,576,876 and a total production worth $53,160,257. British Columbia ranked first by over two million in the production of shingles and fourth in the production of lath.

Industries. In 1926 there were 1,495 manufacturing establishments, emplyoing 54,462 people in British Columbia and the Yukon. The value of the products manufactured was $249,619,714. British Columbia and Yukon ranked second in value of manufactured products. The manufacture of pulp and paper is one of the important industries.

Minerals. This province ranks first in copper, zinc and lead; second in gold and silver and third in coal. The mineral production in 1927 was exceeded only by Ontario and reached a total value of $60,188,000. Gold mined during 1927 was valued at $3,590,946; copper, $11,845,811; coal (all bituminous) $10,905,326; lead, $15,323,261; silver, $6,163,451; zinc, $9,069,007. The total mineral wealth of the province is beyond computation, for many thousands of square miles of territory have never been surveyed or prospected, and large regions known to be rich in minerals are almost inaccessible at present. There are also abundant supplies of non-metallic minerals. The 1927 production was valued at $11,368,660. Structural materials and clay products had a value of $2,207,004.

General. The province has 17,500 miles of roads fit for motoring, including a trans-provincial highway. There are 4,117 miles of railroads. British Columbia is visited by thousands of tourists every year. This increases the income of the province fifty million dollars a year.

MANITOBA

Population 610,118 (Census of Canada, 1921)

Manitoba extends from the 49th to the 60th parallel of north latitude, and is bounded south by Minnesota and North Dakota, east by Ontario and Hudson Bay, north by Mackenzie Territory and west by Saskatchewan, and has an area of about 251,832 square miles, of which about 20,000 square miles is water.

Agriculture. The area devoted to agriculture is rapidly increasing. In 1926 there were 6,561,884 acres sown to field crops, an increase of 1,000,000 over 1921. There are now 53,252 farms, an increase of 20 per cent in ten years. The total value of land, buildings, tools, live stock and field crops was estimated at $696,495,000 for 1925. The soil is exceedingly fertile and produces wheat of the finest quality. All other kinds of grain, vegetables and small fruits suited to this latitude grow in abundance. The value of the dairy products produced in 1926 was $14,269,664.

Principal Field Crops—1928	Production	Value	Acreage	Average Acre Yield
Alfalfa	24,500 tons	$270,000	11,123	2.20 tons
Barley	52,569,000 bu.	28,387,000	1,937,263	27.1 bu.
Flaxseed	804,400 bu.	1,311,000	81,789	9.8 bu.
Fodder Corn	91,400 tons	548,000	18,536	4.93 tons
Hay and Clover	853,000 tons	7,251,000	399,739	2.13 tons
Mixed Grains	252,000 bu.	151,000	10,412	24.2 bu.
Oats	53,376,000 bu.	22,952,000	1,458,401	36.6 bu.
Peas	29,000 bu.	44,000	1,331	21.8 bu.
Potatoes	2,585,000 cwt.	2,197,000	31,054	83.2 cwt.
Rye	2,066,000 bu.	1,670,000	120,222	17.2 bu.
Turnips, Mangolds	605,000 cwt.	399,000	4,606	131.4 cwt.
Wheat	52,383,000 bu.	48,192,000	2,660,125	19.7 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $113,492,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: 351,464 horses, value $26,354,000; milk cows, 248,630, value $17,433,000; other cattle, 430,279; value $20,338,000; sheep 142,713, value $1,440,000; hogs 330,803, value $5,013,000; poultry 4,414,056, value $4,465,000. Manitoba ranks fifth in the total value of all live stock.

Fisheries, Forests and Furs. The production of the fisheries for 1928 was worth $2,240,314. The principal catches of the year were pickerel, valued at $562,881 and whitefish, valued at $361,849. The total lumber production for 1924 was 70,871,000 feet, valued at $1,783,289. The most important species are spruce, jack pine, tamarack and poplar. There were 32 fox farms in 1924 and the value of the animals sold was $152,210. The value of the pelts sold was $22,235.

Industries. In 1926 there were 797 manufacturing establishments employing 21,201 people. The value of the products manufactured was $132,718,452. Manitoba ranked fourth in the value of manufactured products.

Minerals. Coal of the lignite variety is abundant, but the fields are as yet undeveloped. The 1927 production of gypsum had a value of $512,008; gold $3,762; structural materials and clay products $2,317,068. The total production of minerals in 1927 was valued at $2,832,905.

General. There are 4,540 railways in operation and 70,000 miles of roads surveyed, 2100 miles being gravelled. Manitoba owns its own telephone system with connections in one-quarter of the farm homes.

NEW BRUNSWICK

Population 387,876 (Census of Canada, 1921)

New Brunswick is bounded North by Quebec, East by the Gulf of St. Lawrence, West and South by the Bay of Fundy, Nova Scotia and Maine. The average length is 210 miles, breadth 180 miles. Total area, 27,985 square miles. The surface is generally undulating, with some hills skirting the Bay of Fundy and the Rivers St. John and Restigouche. On the North there is a mountainous district, covered with dense forests and surrounded by fertile valleys and table lands. The province is traversed in all directions by navigable rivers. The coast line is 600 miles long and has numerous bays and many fine harbors.

Agriculture. The soil is fertile and the province has great agricultural possibilities. In 1926 there were 11,720 miles of crown lands having 36,655 farms, with an acreage of 4,269,560. The agricultural wealth of the province, including field crops, lands, buildings and live stock was $168,538,000 in 1926. The principal cereals, legumes, root crops, other vegetables, fruits, especially apples and berries are successfully grown.

Principal Field Crops—1928	Production	Value	Acreage	Average Acre Yield
Barley	246,800 bu.	$252,000	8,930	27.6 bu.
Beans	24,000 bu.	108,000	1,416	17.3 bu.
Buckwheat	1,011,000 bu.	900,000	42,594	23.7 bu.
Fodder Corn	28,000 tons	112,000	3,332	8.30 tons
Hay and Clover	796,000 tons	8,501,000	554,850	1.43 tons
Mixed Grains	88,000 bu.	75,000	3,117	28.3 bu.
Oats	6,339,000 bu.	4,437,000	209,085	30.3 bu.
Peas	25,000 bu.	57,000	1,562	16.3 bu.
Potatoes	6,776,000 cwt.	2,372,000	52,239	129.7 cwt.
Rye	9,000 bu.	13,000	522	17.0 bu.
Turnips, Mangolds	3,707,000 cwt.	1,186,000	13,873	267.2 cwt.
Wheat	157,900 bu.	262,000	8,856	17.8 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $18,275,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: 51,713 horses, value $6,208,000; milk cows, 109,068, value $5,924,000; other cattle 106,085, value $3,232,000; sheep 160,514, value $1,294,000; hogs 76,072, value $1,695,000; poultry 996,218, value $1,192,000. New Brunswick ranks eighth in the total value of all live stock.

Fisheries. In 1928 fishery productions were valued at $5,001,671. The sardine fishery was of chief importance with a total marketed value of $1,172,490. Lobsters, smelts and herring were next in value and showed substantial increases. Cod and salmon decreased in catch and market value. The amount of capital invested was $3,401,588 as compared with $3,690,824 in 1925. There were 189 fish curing and canning establishments in operation, 128 of which were lobster canneries.

Forests. There are extensive forests of red spruce, balsam, cedar and hardwoods, chiefly birch, maple and beech. The lumber production for 1924 was valued at $12,407,262 an increase of 11.2 per cent. Spruce, with a value of over one million dollars formed the bulk of the lumber produced. There were 202 lumber mills, 6 pulp and paper mills and 26 sash and door factories in operation. New Brunswick ranked first in the production of lath, third in the production of shingles, and fourth in the lumber industry in 1924.

Furs. In 1924 there were 106 fur farms with a property value of $81,002,363. The animals sold had a value of $350,295 and the pelts, $84,337.

Industries. In 1926 there were 910 manufacturing establishments employing 17,674 people. The value of the products manufactured was $74,122,239. New Brunswick ranked sixth in the value of manufactured products. The manufactures are chiefly sawed lumber and wooden wares, cotton and woolen goods, refined sugar, shoes, edge tools, furniture, paper, castings, machinery and locomotives.

Minerals. Coal, gypsum, petroleum, natural gas and other minerals are found in considerable quantities. The total values of minerals produced during 1927 were: non-metallic $1,673,012, structural materials and clay products $351,013.

NOVA SCOTIA

Population 523,837

Provincial Capital, HALIFAX

Nova Scotia consists of a narrow peninsula, connected with New Brunswick by a narrow isthmus about 16 miles wide, and of the island of Cape Breton. It is bounded on the north by the Gulf of St. Lawrence, on the east and south by the Atlantic, on the west by the Bay of Fundy and New Brunswick. It is 300 miles long and from 80 to 100 wide, with an area of 21,428 square miles, or about 13,000,000 acres. Of the entire area only five million acres are tillable, the remaining land is covered with dense forests. The Cobequid Range extends through the northern interior of the province and on each side of this range are rich arable lands where the agricultural activities of the province center. The valley of the Annapolis is noted for its beauty and fertility.

Agriculture. The soil is fertile and well adapted to the growing of grain, vegetables and fruit. In 1926 the agricultural wealth of the province, including lands, buildings, field crops, implements, live stock and poultry, was valued at $169,351,000. The majority of the farmers are owners. Fruit growing, especially in the Annapolis valley, is an important industry and Nova Scotia is known as one of the finest apple growing districts in the world. Its climate is temperate and there is sufficient moisture and sunshine to produce fruit of the finest color and flavor. Apples are exported in large quantities and are in demand in England. In 1925 the apple crop was 956,056 barrels, valued at $4,302,252.

Principal Field Crops—1928	Production	Value	Acreage	Average Acre Yield
Barley	259,600	$312,000	9,396	27.6 bu.
Beans	32,000 bu.	130,000	1,951	16.2 bu.
Buckwheat	154,600 bu.	169,000	7,145	21.6 bu.
Fodder Corn	11,000 tons	44,000	971	11.20 tons
Hay and Clover	925,000 tons	10,850,000	527,612	1.75 tons
Mixed Grains	160,000 bu.	170,000	4,539	35.3 bu.
Oats	3,648,000 bu.	3,028,000	109,163	33.4 bu.
Peas	11,200 bu.	25,000	599	18.7 bu.
Potatoes	3,280,000 cwt.	1,968,000	30,685	106.9 cwt.
Rye	2,700 bu.	4,000	113	24.0 bu.
Turnips, Mangolds	3,877,000 cwt.	1,939,000	15,852	244.6 cwt.
Wheat	113,800 bu.	185,000	6,021	18.9 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $113,492,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: horses 50,929, value $5,675,000; milk cows 137,867, value $8,343,000; other cattle 131,925, value $4,885,000; sheep 270,461, value $2,034,000; hogs 55,184, value $954,000; poultry 967,002, value $978,000. Nova Scotia ranks seventh in the total value of all live stock.

Fisheries. The total marketed value of fish and fish products for 1928 was $11,561,899. The lobster catch for 1925 was over $2,000,000; next in importance are cod, mackerel, herring and haddock.

Forests. The extensive forests of Nova Scotia are of commercial importance. The lumber consists of spruce, fir, hemlock and pine, with some birch, oak and maple. These woods are used in the shipbuilding industries of the province and in the manufacture of pulp which is exported to paper mills in the other provinces and to the United States. The lumber cut in 1924 was valued at $2,621,105.

Fur. Fur farming is a popular and growing industry. In 1925 there were 192 fur farms (principally fox) and the value of the animals and pelts sold was $180,000.

Industries. In 1926 there were 1,163 manufacturing establishments employing 16,782 people. The value of the products manufactured was $73,505,642. Nova Scotia ranked seventh in the value of manufactured products. The principal manufactured products were railroad cars, coarse cloth, flannels, blankets, carpets, boots, wood pulp, ships, saddlery, furniture, farm implements, canned goods and lumber products.

Minerals. Nova Scotia is rich in minerals and its coal deposits are said to be sufficient to last two hundred years. In 1927 the province ranked first in the production of coal, value $27,191,431; and gypsum value $1,475,732 and third in its total mineral production, value $29,554,822. Other important minerals are salt, grindstones, quartz, structural materials and clay products.

General. Nova Scotia supports five universities and many other educational institutions. The capital city, Halifax, is the winter port for mail steamers and has direct communication with Liverpool, Boston, Baltimore, Quebec and the West Indies. The harbor, which is over one-half mile wide at its narrowest part, is one of the finest in existence.

Population 2,933,662

Provincial Capital, TORONTO

Ontario is bounded on the east by Quebec, north by Hudson Bay and Manitoba, southwest and south by Minnesota, the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River, and west by Manitoba. The province has an area of 407,252 square miles, exclusive of its water surface. It is the most populous and wealthy province of the Dominion of Canada, and contains many large cities. Ottawa, population 125,000, is the seat of government and capital of the Dominion.

Agriculture. Ontario is one of the principal agricultural provinces and is surpassed in agricultural wealth only by Saskatchewan. Northern Ontario is now open for settlement and contains millions of acres of fertile land suitable for cultivation. All of the staple crops are grown in abundance, especially wheat, oats, barley and corn. Thousands of acres of land are devoted to the growing of fruit, especially apples and grapes. Peaches, other fruits and berries are also produced in quantities of commercial importance. Tobacco is successfully grown in the southern part of the province. About 6,200 acres are devoted to the raising of flax for fibre. The dairy industries are growing in size and importance and the breed of dairy cattle is constantly being improved. There are over 1,000 butter and cheese factories. The 1926 value of dairy productions was $93,915,000 or 39 per cent of the total for the Dominion. The production of cheese, which was over 119 million pounds, constituted two-thirds, and butter, over 16 million pounds, constituted one-third of the above total.

Principal Field Crops—1928	Production	Value	Acreage	Average Acre Yield

Wheat	18,948,000 bu.	22,716,000	803,465	23.6 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $243,768,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: 609,249 horses, value $60,368,000; milk cows, 1,261,384, value $106,153,000; other cattle, 1,420,669, value $76,959,000; sheep 1,014,106, value $12,320,000; hogs 1,833,538, value $24,943,000; poultry 19,703,576, value $23,253,000. Ontario ranks first in the total value of all live stock.

Fisheries. The fisheries are principally located on the Great Lakes. The 1928 catch was worth $4,030,753. Trout, pickerel, herring and whitefish were the most important.

Forests. There are over 240,000 square miles of forest land in the province. More than half of the lumber cut is white pine, other species found are jack pine, spruce, red pine, hemlock, maple and other hardwoods. The spruce is cut for pulp wood, the mills of the province using over one million cords a year. The lumber products for 1925 were valued at $38,285,598, exceeded only by British Columbia.

Furs. Ontario led in the fur production (1925) with a value of $3,406,868 or nearly one-fourth of the total for Canada. Muskrat skins, value $759,329; beaver skins, value $934,876; and mink skins, value $675,248, were the leading species. The 495 fur farms were devoted almost wholly to the raising of silver foxes and sold animals and pelts to the value of $475,593.

Industries. In 1926 there were 9,457 manufacturing establishments, employing 280,351 people. The value of the products manufactured was $1,677,933,504. Ontario ranked first in the value of products manufactured. Water-power is abundant and available throughout the province. Manufacturing establishments are increasing in number and importance. The principal ones are those making agricultural implements, automobiles, wagons, carriages, railroad stock, including locomotives, cotton and woolen goods, leather, furniture, paper and pulp, soap and woodenware.

Minerals. Ontario led the provinces in the production of minerals for 1927 which had a value of $89,109,865. Gold is the richest deposit and was worth $33,679,503; silver $5,237,983. The nickel obtained from the nickel mines of the Sudbury district was valued at $15,262,171. This is the only province in which nickel has been found and it produces 90 per cent of the world's supply. Cobalt, a valuable by-product of silver, is principally supplied by Ontario. There are many other metallic and non-metallic minerals as well as structural materials and clay products of commercial importance.

General. Transportation facilities are good. In addition to the great trunk lines, every section has lines connecting it with the main system. The province has a fine system of waterways, both natural and artificial and over 1,300 miles of waterfront on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Population 88,615

Provincial Capital, CHARLOTTETOWN

(For map see map of New Brunswick)

Prince Edward Island is bounded north by the Gulf of St. Lawrence, east by Cape Breton Island, south by Nova Scotia proper, and west by New Brunswick. The greatest length is 130 miles; greatest breadth, 34 miles; least breadth, 4 miles; area about 2,184 square miles. The surface is undulated, and the greatest elevation is 500 feet. The climate is healthful and milder than that of the neighboring mainland. There are fine beaches along the northern shore, facing the gulf and the island is becoming popular as a summer resort.

Agriculture. The soil is an open sandy loam, deep red in color. Its fertility is constantly being renewed by the application of mussel mud dredged from the bays and tidal streams. All of the principal field crops are grown, especially hay and clover, potatoes, oats and wheat. Dairying is becoming more popular and the manufacture of butter and cheese is an important industry. Quantities of farm products are exported to Cape Breton, Newfoundland and the New England States. Enough fruit is grown to supply the local demand. Practically all of the farms are operated by owners and there is a general state of agricultural prosperity.

Principal Field Crops—1928	Production	Value	Acreage	Average Acre Yield
Barley	148,000 bu.	$123,000	5,179	28.6 bu.
Buckwheat	64,400 bu.	51,000	2,881	22.4 bu.

Wheat	498,000 bu.	717,000	26,099	19.1 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $12,444,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: 33,695 horses, value $3,401,000; milk cows 56,949,000, value $3,531,000; other cattle 60,164, value $2,130,000; sheep 97,082, value $962,000; hogs 52,658, value $833,000; poultry 937,324, value $997,000. Prince Edward Island ranks ninth in total value of live stock.

Fisheries, Forests and Furs. Even though the fisheries are of less value than those of most of the other provinces they are, in proportion to the population, very productive. Lobsters are of chief commercial importance and nearly three million pounds of canned lobsters are shipped annually. Herring, cod, smelts, mackerel and oysters are also caught in large quantities. The total value of the fisheries for 1928 was $1,196,681. About one-third of the province is covered with forests, chiefly birch, beech, maple, pine, spruce, cedar and other woods. The total lumber production for 1924 was worth $101,286. Prince Edward Island has more fur farms than any of the other provinces. The climate and location are particularly adapted to the raising of silver foxes. The 569 fox farms sold animals worth $3,000,000 during 1926.

Industries. In 1926 there were 299 manufacturing establishments, employing 2,261 people. The value of the products manufactured was $4,069,335. This province ranked eighth in value of manufactured products. The principal productions were agricultural implements, domestic articles, tweeds and flannels, pottery, boots and shoes.

QUEBEC

Population 2,261,199

Provincial Capital, QUEBEC

Quebec is bounded north by Hudson Bay, east by Labrador and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, south by New Brunswick, Maine, New Hampshire, New York and the Ottawa River, which separates it from Ontario, and west by Hudson Bay and Ontario. Extreme breadth from east to west 1,080 miles, length from north to south 1,280 miles; area 703,653 square miles. The surface south of the St. Lawrence is generally hilly, further north it is mountainous and rocky and abounding in rivers and small lakes. The extreme northern part is an unexplored wilderness. A great part of the surface of the province is covered with forests. More than four-fifths of the people are French.

Agriculture. Quebec is third among the provinces in agricultural wealth. In 1926 there were over six million acres of cultivated land and all the principal field crops were grown. The estimated value of the field crops, land, buildings, implements, live stock and poultry was $1,364,403,000 in 1925. Quebec ranks second in the production of fruit, especially apples. The maple sugar industry is very important and centers in this province. About two-thirds of the tobacco crop of the Dominion is grown here. Dairying is a well established and growing industry and the manufacture of butter and cheese is important. In 1926 the dairy productions were worth $30,223,790.

Alfalfa	57,000 tons	$535,000	23,000	2.48 tons

Fodder Corn	663,000 tons	3,965,000	83,000	7.99 tons
Hay and Clover	6,203,000 tons	62,092,000	4,278,000	1.45 tons
Mixed Grains	2,892,000 bu.	2,892,000	119,000	24.3 bu.
Oats	41,031,000 bu.	30,773,000	1,746,000	23.5 bu.
Peas	508,000 bu.	1,453,000	35,000	14.5 bu.
Potatoes	13,071,000 cwt.	13,594,000	164,000	79.7 cwt.
Rye	181,000 bu.	272,000	12,000	15.1 bu.
Turnips, Mangolds	5,549,000 cwt.	4,106,000	34,000	163.2 cwt.
Wheat	929,000 bu.	1,561,000	57,000	16.3 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $130,363,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: 351,206 horses, value $38,018,000; milk cows 1,114,467, value $71,598,000; other cattle 849,879, value $29,210,000; sheep 863,757, value $8,272,000; hogs 813,309, value $14,669,000; poultry 8,350,000, value $9,835,000. Quebec ranks second in total value of live stock.

Fisheries. The production of the fisheries for the year 1928 was worth $3,037,062, compared with 2,736,450 in 1927. Cod was the most important and had a marketed value of $1,408,516, or 45 per cent of the total. Lobsters were next in importance followed by salmon, herring and mackerel. The productions of the inland fisheries had a value of $459,590. During 1926 there were in operation three salmon canneries, 34 fish-curing plants and 57 lobster canneries.

Forests. The greater part of the province is covered with forests of spruce, white pine, yellow birch, hemlock, balsam fir and others. The total lumber production for 1924 was worth $17,015,751. Quebec ranked second in the production of lath and third in the total production of lumber and shingles. The forests abound with many wild fur-bearing animals and Quebec is one of the centers of the wild fur industry. There are also 456 fur farms (mostly fox) scattered throughout the province.

Industries. In 1926 there were 7,164 manufacturing establishments employing 180,659 people. The value of the products manufactured was $905,300,824. Quebec ranked third in the value of manufactured products and leads all other provinces in the asbestos and pulp wood industries. Its immense forests of spruce and other pulp woods and its abundant water-power give it unsurpassed advantages. The principal productions were furniture, leather, cotton and woolen goods, iron, hardware, aluminum and agricultural implements.

Minerals. Quebec has the most extensive and productive asbestos deposits known. The production for 1927 had a value of $10,624,106. The total mineral production was valued at $28,313,330. Structural materials and clay products are the next in importance, followed by zinc, copper, lead and silver. There are also other metallic and non-metallic minerals found in small quantities.

General. There are 7,560 miles of good roads in Quebec. Over one million tourists visited the province in 1926, this netted an income of $25,000,000. Montreal, though not the capital, is the largest city in the province and the chief commercial center of the Dominion.

SASKATCHEWAN

Population 757,516

Provincial Capital, REGINA

The Province of Saskatchewan is bounded on the north by the parallel of 60° north, on the west by the Province of Alberta, on the south by the 49th parallel (the boundary of the United States), and on the east by Manitoba. Its length from north to south is 761 miles, and its breadth 320 miles. Its land area is 251,700 square miles. North of the 54th parallel the country is a region of lakes, swamps and forests and is practically uninhabited except by Indians, the white population consisting chiefly of the employes of the Hudson Bay Company. The province is well watered, having numerous streams, lakes and rivers and the climate is healthful, although the winters are severe.

Agriculture. Saskatchewan has over 70 million acres of land that are suitable for agriculture and about 58 million suitable for crop production. This province surpasses all other provinces in the production of wheat with an annual yield of over 200 million bushels. In 1926 the agricultural wealth of the province, including buildings, lands, live stock and productions, was $1,876,833,000. Saskatchewan is noted for its co-operative markets. These markets handle all the agricultural productions of the province.

Alfalfa	19,000 tons	$243,000	8,399	2.29 tons
Barley	44,266,000 bu.	21,248,000	1,621,463	27.3 bu.

Wheat	303,399,000 bu.	233,617,000	13,790,854	22.0 bu.

Total value of all field crops for 1928 was $334,867,000.
From the Bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, January, 1929.

The live stock and dairying industries are growing in importance. In 1925 there were 70 creameries in operation and over 34 million pounds of butter and 239 thousands pounds of cheese were produced.

The estimated numbers and values of farm live stock for 1928 were: 1,135,852 horses, value $73,830,000; milk cows 418,506, value $27,203,000; other cattle 762,873, value $35,092,000; sheep 183,098, value $1,831,000; hogs 602,156, value $8,430,000; poultry 8,450,345, value $7,178,000. Saskatchewan ranks third in total value of live stock.

Fisheries, Forests and Furs. The rivers and streams throughout the province are well stocked with fish of all kinds. Trout, pickerel, whitefish, herring and perch are the most important commercially. In 1928 the production of the various fisheries was worth $563,533. The northern part of the province is heavily wooded with spruce, poplar, tamarack and jack pine. The lumber production for 1924 was valued at $162,968. There are many wild fur-bearing animals as well as numerous fur farms.

Industries and Minerals. In 1926 there were 674 manufacturing establishments, employing 4,904 people. The value of the products manufactured was $47,108,097. Saskatchewan ranked eighth in the value of manufactured products.

YUKON TERRITORY

Population 4,157

Provincial Capital, DAWSON

(For map see Alaska)

Yukon Territory is bounded on the north by the Arctic Ocean and Mackenzie Territory, on the east by Mackenzie Territory, on the south by Alaska and British Columbia, and on the west by Alaska. Its extreme length from north to south is about 675 miles, its greatest breadth about 625 miles, and its land area 206,427 square miles.

Population. The population, which was 27,219 in 1901, has decreased with the decrease of gold production, to 4,157.

Minerals. Yukon contains the great Klondike gold-producing region. Practically the only industry in Yukon is mining, chiefly for gold, although silver, lead and copper are mined to some extent. The amount of gold produced has been decreasing for some years past. In 1900 the value of the output was $22,275,000. Since then it has dropped rapidly. In 1925 it had a value of $988,475. The decrease was due to the deposits of gold accessible to the methods of placer mining, formerly used, having become to a considerable extent, exhausted. Many companies have been formed recently to prosecute the search for this metal by the more modern methods of hydraulic mining and dredging, also quartz mining. Machinery has been imported for these purposes, and in a few years the output will no doubt be increased. The silver mined in 1925 had a value of $624,984; lead, $171,041. The production of coal is variable. In 1911 it was 2,840 tons; in 1912, 9,245 tons; in 1913, 19,722 tons. In 1915 it dropped to 9,724 tons and to 1,977 tons in 1925. The total mineral production, which is decreasing year by year was valued at $1,785,170 in 1927. The important productions were silver, gold and lead.

Agriculture. Experiments are being carried on to determine what crops are best suited to the soil and climatic conditions. Oats, wheat and barley have been successfully grown. Vegetables started under glass, and set out when the summer opens, grow to a large size, the almost continuous sunlight being highly favorable to rapid growth. The 1921 census reported 10 farms in the territory, with a total of 1,622 acres, 475 being improved and 1,147 acres unimproved. Oats were grown on 66 acres, wheat on 11 acres and barley on two. Hay and forage crops were grown on 248 acres, potatoes on 20 and root crops on six. Live stock included 17 horses, 47 cattle and five swine, with 215 head of poultry.

Fisheries, Furs. The fisheries in 1927 reported a production of fish, chiefly whitefish and salmon, valued at $12,090. There were in 1922 sixteen fox farms in the territory with a valuation, including animals, buildings, etc., of over $1,000,000. They held 260 silver foxes valued at $65,250 and 15 crossfoxes valued at $1,080. Animals sold in 1922 brought $3,575, pelts sold $19,823. The total value of raw furs (tame and wild) taken in 1925, was $309,549.

DOMINION OF NEWFOUNDLAND

Population, 266,154

Above includes the population of Labrador, 3,774

Capital, ST. JOHN'S

(For map see New Brunswick)

Newfoundland, a large island, lies to the eastward of the Dominion of Canada, in the Atlantic Ocean. It is separated from Canada by the Straits of Belle Isle, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Cabot Straits. It is the oldest English colony, about the size of the state of Virginia and has a government entirely separate from that of Canada. Newfoundland is bounded on the east, north and south by the Atlantic Ocean, and on the west by the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Its extreme length is 350 miles; average breadth, 130 miles; area, 42,000 square miles. The topography is generally rugged with many lakes and rivers. The central and eastern portion of the interior is thinly wooded and consists in part of elevated plains called "barrens." The river valleys and the western part of the island is thickly timbered. Labrador is a Newfoundland dependency and has a coastline of 850 miles, and 3,774 inhabitants, mostly Eskimos. They are engaged in the cod and seal fisheries and during the winter months in trapping.

The climate is healthful and more temperate than most of the neighboring continents. The Gulf Stream modifies the cold and the temperature is rarely below zero in the winter and in the summer seldom exceeds 80 F. Open fireplaces are sufficient to warm the houses. Winter usually sets in the first of December and lasts until the middle of April. The Autumn, a period of fine weather, often lasts until November. Thunderstorms are rare, tornadoes unknown and the fogs are confined to the shores and bays of the south-eastern and southern coasts.

Agriculture. Over one-sixth of the dry land or about 7,000 square miles is suitable for cultivation and grazing. The most fertile land is that of the Codroy valley. The soil is also fertile in the Bay St. George district, Humber Exploits valleys. The area of cultivated land is rapidly increasing and about 200,000 acres are now under cultivation. The principal crops are hay, oats, garden vegetables, apples and small fruits, especially berries. The country is especially adapted for sheep grazing and the live stock industry in general is becoming important.

Forests. There are large forests of pine, spruce, birch, juniper and larch which furnish ample materials for an important timber trade, shipbuilding and pulp for paper. Other species that abound in the forests of the interior are balsam, mountain ash, poplar, aspen and a variety of Evergreens. Berry bearing plants, flowering plants, ferns, wild grasses and clover cover vast areas of the land.

Minerals. Copper and iron ore are the most important minerals found on the Island. Other existing minerals are silver, gold, zinc, antimony, asbestos, mica, manganese, graphite, nickel, plumbago, lithographic stone, talc, slate and coal. There are also marble and limestone quarries and oil wells. The mineral lands as a whole are being successfully developed.

Fisheries. Fisheries constitute the principal industry of the Island. The most important fish commercially is the cod. The Newfoundland cod fishery is said to be the most extensive of its kind in the world. The annual catch of cod in North American waters is estimated at 150,000,000 fish valued at $15,000,000. The seal fishery employs nine vessels and the 1927 catch was 180,409 seals, valued at $297,822. The whaling industry is carried on to a limited extent. Lobsters, herring, salmon and trout are also important catches. Including what is used for home consumption the total value of the fisheries is not less than $45,284,000.

Industries. The chief industry is the making of pulp and paper, lumber saw and planing mill products. There are also boot and shoe, nail, soap, furniture and carriage factories, fish and lobster canneries, and shipyards. Several English companies have built pulp mills on the Island and these have a capacity of 700 tons per day.

The exports go chiefly to the United States, Canada, Great Britain, Spain and Italy. The most valuable export is paper and ground pulp, 70,350 tons of paper, valued at $6,272,886 and 12,711 tons of ground pulp valued at $215,896 being exported in 1924-1925. Iron ore to the extent of 1,063,973 tons, valued at $1,808,700 was shipped. Total exports of all fishery products, including the whale and seal products in 1925-1926 were valued at $27,563,213. Goods exported to the United States in 1926 were valued at $4,753,591. The imports from the United States were valued at $8,861,819. The total trade in 1925-1926 amounted to $55,115,568.

BERMUDA, CUBA AND WEST INDIES

BERMUDA

Population 21,840 (White, 7,443; Colored, 14,397)

Capital, HAMILTON

A group of islands in the North Atlantic Ocean, 660 miles southeast of New York. Although said to be 365 in number, of which about a score are inhabited, they occupy a space only 18 miles by 2½ miles. The largest has an area of 9,000 acres, the whole group containing only about 12,000 acres. The more important islands are connected by bridges and a causeway. There is frequent steamship service, with New York, Halifax, N. S., and England. They are of coral formation on the summit of a submarine mountain. The climate is delightful, without extremes of heat or cold, the temperature ranging from 55 to 85 degrees, and the islands are becoming very popular as a summer and winter pleasure and health resort, and are visited every year by increasing numbers of Americans and Canadians. Although a governor is appointed by the British crown, the islands have their own representative government for local affairs, having the oldest parliament among all the British colonies.

The soil produces almost every description of fruits, flowers and vegetables abundantly. Onions, potatoes, celery and early table vegetables are the chief crops, and the culture of such vegetables and also flowers, especially Easter lilies, for the American market, is a large and growing industry. The 1922 crop of onions was worth $107,000, potatoes, $335,000, and other vegetables, $204,000, lily bulbs, $57,500. The United States sent to Bermuda in the year 1925, goods valued at $3,142,977 and imported from Bermuda $859,578. The total imports from all countries in 1923 amounted to about $9,500,000; exports $2,500,000. There is frequent and regular steamship communication with New York, and also direct lines to Canada and England.

HAMILTON, pop. ——, foreign born 20%, English reading 99%. Situated on the largest island, known as the mainland. Steamboat connections. Exports potatoes, celery, winter vegetables, lilies and lily bulbs. Seat of government and business center of the Bermuda island group. British naval and military station. Health and pleasure resort.

CUBA

Population 3,413,216

(Reported Census Official for December 31, 1925.)

Capital, HAVANA

Cuba, the largest and the most populous of the West India Islands, is situated about 100 miles south of Florida, from which it is separated by the Florida Straits. It is 760 miles in length from east to west, greatest breadth at Cape Cruz, 110 miles; average width from 50 to 60 miles, except at its western extremity where it is about 30 miles. It has a coast line of 2,500 miles, with many fine harbors. Total area, 45,881 square miles, a little larger than the state of Pennsylvania. A mountain range intersects it longitudinally. The climate is hot but healthful. The temperature ranges from a mean 70° in January to a mean 82.4° in July. Snow is never known to fall, but frost occurs occasionally on the highest points. The annual rain fall is 54 inches. The rainy season is mainly confined to July, August and September. The mountains are rich in minerals and there are 12,000,000 acres of forests with abundance of mahogany, ebony, cedar and other valuable woods.

The vegetation is exceedingly luxuriant; the principal crops are sugar and tobacco, and of these sugar is by far the most important. The production of sugar in 1922 was over 4,000,000 tons, practically all of which went to the United States. Molasses and rum as by-products of the sugar industry are of general importance. The tobacco crop is worth from forty to fifty million dollars yearly. The 1918 cacao crop was 3,307,000 pounds. The chief fruit crops are oranges, pineapples, bananas and grape fruit. Cocoa, rice and coffee are grown and beekeeping is a thriving industry.

Stock-breeding is a highly important industry, as the grasses grow luxuriantly, and the savannahs of central Cuba are excellent cattle ranges. The fishing and sponge industries are important. Batabano and Caibarien are centers of the sponge fisheries.

Mining is of considerable importance. Iron is the most important mineral product, and is even more accessible here than in the famous Lake Superior region. Other minerals are manganese, bituminous products, asphalt, grahamite and glance-pitch. Carbonate of lime is found in large quantities.

The commerce of Cuba is rapidly increasing, especially with the United States, which furnishes most of the goods imported and takes most of the exports. The rest of the commerce is chiefly with the United Kingdom and Spain. There are many fine harbors, chief among them being Havana, Bahia Honda, Mantanzas, Cienfuegos, Santiago and Guantanamo. From 90,000 to 100,000 vessels enter the several ports each year. The principal imports are cereals, meat, cotton and cotton goods, and machinery. The exports are sugar, tobacco, cigars, fruits, honey and beeswax, cocoa, molasses, cedar, mahogany, dye woods, cattle hides, copper, iron ore, manganese, asphalt. The total imports for 1924 were $290,525,585, the total exports $434,069,000, of which over 86 per cent was sugar. The exports to the United States for the year ending June 30, 1925, were valued at $291,915,139; imports from the United States, $206,662,049.

There are 3,500 miles of steam railroads in the country, 250 miles of electric lines and more than 1,500 miles of improved highways. Thirty-two steamers per week leave for United States ports. Havana is one of the largest commercial ports in the Western Hemisphere. Cuba is a popular winter resort, and nearly 200,000 Americans visited the island last year.

Cuba forms an exception to the rule in the West Indian islands, in that the white people far outnumber the negroes. Fully seventy per cent of the people are white. Education has made great strides since the people attained independence. Under the policy of those dominant under the Spanish regime, the people had no educational facilities, and only a very small percentage could read. At the present time primary education is free and compulsory. Secondary and advanced education is controlled by the state. The percentage of the people over ten years of age who can read is 82.6 in the cities and in the country districts is 47.9. In the cities 49.9 per cent of the children attend school, in the country districts, 31.6 per cent. The island has 5,000 primary schools and 5,300 teachers.

All papers are Spanish unless otherwise stated.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

Population, 900,000

Capital, SANTO DOMINGO

The Dominican Republic, or Santo Domingo, occupies the eastern and the larger part of the island of Haiti, and has an area of 19,325 square miles, more than double the area of the Republic of Haiti. It is separated from Porto Rico by the Mona Passage, a strait about 75 miles wide. The central part is mountainous, reaching the highest elevation in Monte Tina, 13,300 feet, but the valley lands and the plains along the northern coast are extremely fertile, and abundant crops of tropical and sub-tropical fruits, vegetables, etc., are grown. The country is well watered, numerous rivers having their origin in the mountain ranges. The largest in the north are the Yaque del Norte, which rises near Yaque mountain, and after a course of 249 miles flows into the ocean at Monte Cristo Bay, and the Yuna, which rises a few miles east of the source of the Yaque and flows 186 miles to Samana Bay. The basins of these two rivers form the great valley known as the Vega Real de Colon, reaching from Samana Bay on the east to Manzanillo Bay on the northwest, which is unexcelled for fertility. The chief rivers of the south are the Yaque del Sur and the Ozama. While the climate in general is hot and humid, there are districts in the south and east where the rainfall is so slight that agriculture has not been successful. For these regions the government has decided to construct large irrigation works, the surveys for which are now being made. The population is of mixed ancestry, mostly negro. Their language is Spanish.

The principal products are sugar, cacao, coffee, bananas and tobacco, also some cotton. Corn and tropical cereals do well. The 1924 crop of sugar was 237,809 tons. All of it was exported to the United States. Cacao is produced chiefly in the northern part of the island, and is shipped to the United States and European countries. The 1917 crop was 54,674,000 pounds. Bananas, to the value of $3,000,000 are shipped to the United States, which takes all the crop. Tobacco is grown chiefly in the vicinity of Santiago and the crop is exported to the United States, Spain and France. The 1918 crop was 35,000,000 pounds. Other products were coffee, $350,000, and beeswax, $140,000. Stock raising is a large and growing industry.

About $1,000,000 worth of hardwoods and other miscellaneous products is exported each year. The exports in 1924 were $21,580,571; imports, $30,362,896. The forests produce large quantities of mahogany, satin-wood, logwood and cedar. The timber has been cut chiefly near the coast, and the extensive forests of the interior have scarcely been touched. These contain vast amounts of the most valuable hard woods and dye-woods, and the higher elevations in certain regions are covered with a large growth of pine. The mineral resources have been neglected, although deposits of gold, silver, copper, coal, salt, petroleum and iron are known to exist. The leading industries are the manufacture of sugar, rum, cigars and cigarettes, leather, soap, candles and lumber, besides minor industries. The major portion of the people are engaged in agricultural pursuits. Two railroads in the northern portion and another along the southern coast connect the chief cities in those districts. There is regular steamer communication with France, the United States and Cuba, and three submarine cables connections over French systems. Since the United States took charge of the customs the financial affairs of the country have been reorganized, and the government has now a surplus over the necessary expenses. Crops are more abundant and of better quality, and commerce is increasing. 1925 imports of goods from the United States, $16,673,398; exports to the United States, $6,695,175.

HAITI

Population, 2,000,000

Capital, PORT-AU-PRINCE

Haiti occupies the western or smaller part of the island known as Haiti, and has an area of 10,240 square miles. It lies east of Cuba, separated from that island by the Windward Passage, about 40 miles wide. Ninety per cent of the population is of the negro race. Although much of the land is mountainous and rugged, and covered with dense forests, the soil, where cleared and cultivated, is remarkably fertile, and large crops of coffee, cotton, cacao, sugar and tobacco are grown. The coffee grown in 1923 was 50,000,000 pounds. Cacao crop in 1917, 3,402,000 pounds; sugar (1923) 10,967 tons. Large quantities of valuable timber, consisting of mahogany, cedar and various dye-woods, the products of the forests, are also exported. United States Treasury reports show that in the year ending June 30, 1925, Haiti imported from the United States goods worth $13,150,461. The exports to the United States were $1,928,525. The amount of trade between the two countries grows larger each year. Total exports, 1923, $14,176,322; total imports, $14,696,128. The mineral deposits, which are valuable, have been but little developed. A convention, signed between the United States government and Haiti and ratified by the senates of both countries, is now in operation and much benefit is expected to result from it in the future development of the country. With the help of the United States, the government will be more settled and industrial progress will probably be rapid. Several hundred miles of highways have been constructed during recent years, and railroads are being built from Port-au-Prince to others of the principal cities. Outside of a few thousand white foreigners the population is entirely negro. The language is French.

(All papers are French unless otherwise stated.)

PORT-AU-PRINCE, (D3), pop. 120,000. Capital and principal seaport of Haiti, on the west coast. National RR. Tel, bank. Tobacco factory; rum distillery. Agriculture, tobacco, coffee, cotton.

Capital, NASSAU

A chain of islands extending nearly 600 miles northwest from near the north coast of Haiti to the east coast of Florida, and including 20 inhabited islands, 153 islets, and innumerable reefs. The area is 4,400 square miles. The population of 53,031 (11,775 families) is made up of 23,790 males and 29,241 females. The average number of persons per square mile is 12.4. Nearly 12,000 children are regularly attending school. The climate is healthful, and the temperature in six years had a minimum of 54° and a maximum of 92.5°. The islands are the winter home of many Americans and Canadians, and from their nearness to the coast of Florida, bid fair to grow more popular year by year. The sponge crop amounts to $600,000 or $700,000 a year. There is an abundance of fine hardwoods and pine. An important industry is the supplying of stevedore and contract labor. The imports for the year ending March 31st, 1923, were valued at about $10,000,000 and consisted chiefly of foodstuffs, which were nearly one-third of the total. Spirituous liquors came next, a little more than a quarter of the total. Wines, tobacco, textiles, metal and other manufactured goods make up the rest. About eighty per cent of the manufactured goods came from the United States, the greater part of the remainder from Great Britain. The exports (1923) were valued at $9,000,000, and were chiefly sponges, oranges, grape fruit, pineapples (canned and fresh) and other fruits; vegetables (especially onions and tomatoes), turtle shell, lumber, fish, salt, beche de mer and sisal hemp. Sixty-one per cent of the exports went to the United States, thirteen per cent to the United Kingdom, ten per cent to France.

from 1911 to 1921, the decrease in population was 15,671. Previous to 1921 each census showed an increase. The decrease is due to emigration, which is estimated at over 24,000 during the ten year period. The climate is exceptionally healthful. There are no extremes of temperature, due to the constant south-east trades. The meteorological reports for 1920 showed the highest temperature, 84.3 degrees, the lowest 65.4 degrees. There is regular steamer communication with the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom. There is only one harbor, Carlisle Bay, the island being almost entirely surrounded by coral reefs. Shipping tonnage entered in 1920 was 3,201,535. Surface diversified, soil generally fertile. Sugar-cane is the chief crop. Cotton and vegetables are also grown. Chief articles of export are sugar ($4,853,185 in 1920), rum, cotton, molasses and sirup. The 1920 imports, chiefly foodstuffs, fertilizers and manufactured goods, were valued at $25,727,685; the exports $24,329,470. Most of the trade is with the United Kingdom and Canada. Exports to the United States in the year ending June 30th, 1924, were $491,036; imports from the United States, $1,637,902.

CURACAO (Dutch)

Capital, WILLEMSTAD

An island in the Caribbean sea, situated about 40 miles from the north coast of Venezuela. It has an area of 212 square miles. The surface is generally flat. The shores are deeply indented, forming several natural harbors, the chief one being that of St. Anna on the southwest coast. The group of islands of which Curacao is the largest and the seat of government, number six and have a total area of 400 square miles. The climate is hot, but modified by the northeast trade winds. The chief products are salt, phosphate, grain and cattle, also sugar, cotton, tobacco and cacao. Straw hats and curacao liquor are manufactured. Imports in 1923, $11,819,087; exports, $7,458,980. Imports from the United States, $3,930,448; exports to the United States, $5,810,008.

WILLEMSTAD, pop. ——. The capital of the colony. On St. Ann's Bay, on the south coast of the Island of Curacao. Good harbor with considerable commerce. Bears a strong resemblance to a Dutch town, as the houses are built in the style of those of Amsterdam.

The largest British Island of the Leeward group, lying between Martinique and Guadeloupe, about thirty miles from each. Twenty-nine miles long by sixteen broad, total area 304 square miles. Surface mountainous and picturesque, with streams well stocked with fish. The arable soil is very fertile, and 120,00 acres, more than a third of the area, is under cultivation. There is a preponderance of females in the population, the 1921 census showing 16,760 males and 20,299 females, 69 per cent of the adults are engaged in agricultural pursuits. There are only 556 white persons in the island. The religion is chiefly Roman Catholic. Less than a third of the people can read or write. The climate is healthful, with a mean temperature varying with the altitude of from 55° to 85°. During the winter months the island is a pleasant resort for tourists and for pulmonary and rheumatic invalids. Yellow fever is unknown. Chief products are lime juice (and the annual value of limes and their products is over $600,000), cacao, coconuts, cane and sirup, rum, oranges and other fruit, hardwood lumber, starch, spices, essential oils. Total value of imports in the year 1921 was 286,168 pounds sterling (about $1,430,840). Exports 231,640 pounds sterling ($1,158,200). The United States furnished more than 25 per

Capital, SAINT GEORGE

In the Windward group, north by west of Trinidad. 24½ miles long north to south by 10 miles broad. Surface rugged and picturesque, traversed from north to south by an irregular mass of volcanic mountains rising to a height of 3,000 feet above the sea. The soil is extremely fertile, adapted to tropical productions generally. Climate remarkably healthful and scenery unsurpassed in all the West Indies. The island offers exceptional advantages as a winter resort, having abundant natural facilities for sea bathing, fishing and all aquatic sports. The population consists of 28,847 males and 37,455 females. This depopulation is due to there having been a large emigration of adult males for a number of years past. There are 51,032 negroes, 11,673 of mixed blood, 2,692 orientals and 905 white persons. More than a quarter of all people are engaged in agriculture. About half of the population is Roman Catholic. The Government is establishing schools and assisting other schools, with the result that illiteracy is decreasing. About half of the population can read and write. The people, owing to an equitable system of land distribution, are counted among the most prosperous of the West Indian colonists. The imports in 1920, chiefly food stuffs, had a value of $3,027,815; the exports were $2,899,200. Great Britain enjoys the greater part of the island's trade. The United States has about one-third, both of imports and exports. The chief articles of export are cacao (9,153,984 pounds in 1920, with a value of $2,239,958), nutmegs and other spices, lime juice, coconut and cotton.

SAINT GEORGE (G4½), pop. 4,629. Capital of the island. On the southwest coast. Tel, bank. One of the best harbors in the West Indies. Agricultural district producing cacao, cotton, lime juice, nutmegs and mace.

Capital, BASSE-TERRE

Guadeloupe is the largest of the Lesser Antilles. Area, 494 square miles. Consists of two distinct islands, the western and largest one is known as Guadeloupe proper, the eastern is called Grande-Terre. Other dependent islands are Marie-Galante, La Desirade, Les Saintes, Saint Martin and Saint Barthelemy. Guadeloupe Island is of volcanic formation and traversed by a ridge of mountains, one of which, Mount Soufriere, reaches a height of 5,000 feet, and is an active volcano. Grande-Térre is generally flat. Soil is fertile and well cultivated. Climate hot but salubrious. On the upper slopes of the mountains the temperature is much milder, averaging 68 degrees for the year, the minimum being 50 degrees. There have been no cases of yellow fever or contagious disease for more than twenty years. Forests of valuable hardwoods and dye-woods. Thermal mineral springs of medicinal repute. The sugar production in 1921 was 25,000 tons. The chief articles of export are sugar, coffee, dye-woods, rum, limes, vanilla beans (50,000 pounds a year), bananas, cacao, coconuts, preserved pineapples, spices. The imported goods, machinery, tools, foodstuffs, come largely from the United States. The exports go chiefly to France. Imports from the United States in 1925 had a value of $2,764,159; exports to the United States $259,270.

JAMAICA (British)

Population 858,118. (Census 1921)

(Of whom 14,476 were white)

Capital, KINGSTON

The most important of the British West India Islands, situated 90 miles south of Cuba. Its length is 145 miles, the greatest width 50 miles. Area 4,207 square miles, of which 1,110,448 acres are devoted to tillage or pasture, 46,767 acres of this to sugar-cane; 17,860 acres to coffee; 79,145 acres to bananas and 39,510 to coconut palms. It is traversed by mountains in all directions the highest of which (Blue Mountain) reaches an elevation of 7,360 feet. There are numerous other peaks varying from 2,000 to 6,000 feet. The census of 1921 gave the population of the island as 858,118; 14,476 being white; negroes 660,420; colored (part negro blood) about 157,223. The rest mainly East Indians and Chinese. About two-thirds of the working population are engaged in agriculture.

The soil in the valleys is very productive and vegetation extremely luxuriant. Most of the staple products of tropical climates are grown. Jamaica is famous for its coffee, ginger, pimento (allspice) and rum. In addition to sugar and bananas, which are the chief products, dye-woods, coconuts, coffee, cacao, ginger and other spices, rum and fruits are largely exported. Tobacco and tea are grown to some extent. In 1924 the production of sugar was 25,670 tons; of coffee over 2,907 tons. The 1924 production of rum was 730,456 gallons, value about $950,000; bananas, 11,921,087 bunches, value $6,125,000. The total exports amounted to $15,614,805. 43.7 per cent went to the United States. Jamaica is not prominent as a manufacturing country, a great part of all the manufactured goods being imported, chiefly from the United States. The value of imports in 1924, consisting chiefly of provisions and manufactured goods, was $24,135,370. The United States supplied 40.6 per cent and Great Britain 29,8 per cent. The imports of live animals, provisions and beverages, of all kinds, had a value of $9,886,825; the manufactured goods imported amounted to $11,580,570; raw materials to $2,660,070. The imports from the United States in the year 1925 were $8,370,697, the exports to the United States $7,002,413. There is an abundance of timber, including all tropical hard woods; there are some copper mines. The fisheries are not of great commercial importance, no steam vessels being used.

KINGSTON (C3), pop. 62,707. Capital of the island of Jamaica. Situated on south coast, on north side of Kingston Harbor. Ships bananas, sugar, rum, coffee, cocoa, logwood, honey, sarsaparilla. Naval and military station of Great Britain. Agriculture.

SAINT CHRISTOPHER (British)

(Saint Kitts)

Population 38,214

(1,219 white)

Capital, BASSE-TERRE

In the Leeward group, 45 miles northwest of Guadeloupe. 23 miles long by 5 broad. Area 68 square miles. Traversed from northwest to southeast by a volcanic ridge from which the land gradually slopes to the sea. The soil is rich, fertile, and highly cultivated; the climate dry and healthy. It is the oldest of the British West Indian colonies. About 33,000 of the people are either Methodists or Episcopalians. As in many of the West Indian Islands females are greatly in the majority. They number about 60 per cent of St. Christopher's population. The population has decreased 5,089 since 1911, due to emigration. Much of this decrease is apparent rather than real, as the census is taken at a time when large numbers of the people are working on the sugar plantations in Cuba and the Dominican Republic, returning when the season is over. Products in 1924—sugar, 9,699 tons, value $1,000,000; molasses, value $13,500; Sea Island cotton, 260,043 pounds of lint, value $125,000; coconuts; 244,145 nuts, value $7,500; also rum, cacao. Imports in 1924, $1,500,000; exports $1,250,000.

SAINT VINCENT (British)

Population 44,447

(Mostly Negroes)

Capital, KINGSTOWN

In the Windward group, 95 miles west of Barbados. 18 miles long by 11 broad. Area, 133 square miles. A chain of mountains traverses the island from north to south, the highest peak being the active volcano La Sonfriere which has been the scene of a number of violent eruptions, the latest was in 1902 and caused the death of 1,600 persons. This was about the same time as the great eruption of Mont Pelee, in Martinique, about 75 miles distant. About half of the people are Episcopalians, and about 40 per cent Methodists, the remainder of other sects.

TRINIDAD (British)

Population 362,780

(About 5,000 white)

Capital, PORT OF SPAIN

The most southerly of the British West India Islands, 7 miles northeast of the coast of Venezuela, and about ten degrees north of the equator. Length, 69 miles from north to south; average breadth, 54 miles; area, 1,862 square miles. While in most of the other West Indian Islands the male population is greatly outnumbered by the females, the reverse is the case here. The males number 185,045, females 177,735. The surface is diversified, embracing mountain chains, hills, plains and valleys. The soil is generally fertile; the climate hot and moist, but generally healthful. There are 120 miles of railroad. The exports of agricultural and forest products in 1925 were sugar, 135,859,732 pounds, value $4,555,204.80; cacao, 49,476,609 pounds, value $6,034,824; molasses, 1,271,050 gallons, value $142,267.20; rum, 28,474 gallons, value $25,533.20; bitters, 58,336 gallons, value $363,523.20; coconuts, 8,633,981; value $220,003.20; copra, 9,965,499 pounds, value $629,996.40; coconut oil, 7,387 gallons, value $1,815; also rubber, limes and lime juice, fruits, coffee, spices, honey, cedar lumber, hides, skins and leather. Pitch Lake, near La Brea on the west coast, has an area of 110 acres and yields 157,986 tons of asphalt. Oil wells yield about 126,231,287 gallons of oil, crude, refined and gasoline. The imports in 1925 were valued at $21,096,196.80; the exports, $24,817,704. The commerce with the United States is large. Trinidad imported therefrom, in the year ending December 31st, 1925, goods valued at $4,573,012 and sent goods to the United States worth $5,421,456.

PORT OF SPAIN (G5), pop. 61,581. Capital of the colony. On the west coast. Fine harbor, with ocean commerce. Quenn's Royal College (Government), and St. Mary's College (Catholic).

DAILY NEWSPAPERS

A LIST OF DAILY NEWSPAPERS WHICH ARE PUBLISHED CONTINUOUSLY THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, WITH THE POPULATION OF THE PLACES WHERE THEY ARE PUBLISHED.

N. B.—The circulation figures quoted below were the latest available figures. Variations between these figures and those quoted in the catalog are due to later printing of this section and availability of later circulation figures.

Morning Papers are designated by a (+) mark. Others are evening papers.

Daily papers having Sunday editions, whether under the same or different titles, are marked with an asterisk (✻); those having weekly, semi-weekly or tri-weekly editions, with parallels(||).

Circulation figures marked (★) are the total net paid figures of sworn statements made for the Audit Bureau of Circulations. In a few cases they represent the total net paid circulation as reported by an auditor from the Audit Bureau of Circulations.
